OUR BENEFICIARIES ARE READY TO GRADUATE!

We are thrilled to say that, as of now, every single beneficiary that is eligible for graduation in March is on track to do so! Josue requested that we try to get graduation gowns to help celebrate this day for the beneficiaries. And they will be reused for graduates in years to come! They will also be rented out when we are not using them to help with the cost of purchasing them.

If you would like to contribute to one of the most special days in the lives of our beneficiaries, consider donating a special gift for graduation gowns.

We need
$4,000
for 200 gowns

IFOSuD's Story Featured on the

The opportunity to spread IFOSuD's reach beyond our regular followers is rare. That is why this interview with the Brinkman family has us so excited! Listen to the Draxton's story and IFOSuD's story through an entertaining fictional rendition by the Brinkman family. We have already received attention from listeners around the country as the word about IFOSuD begins to attract new supporters!

PAPAYA FARM

The papaya farm is producing truck loads of papayas! Our small business beneficiaries purchase the papayas from us at a fair price and are able to make a profit that provides for their families and allows them to repay their IFOSuD loans.

What is the Brinkman Adventures?

PRAY FOR OUR FIELD MONITORS

“I want to thank the donors in America and I hope Friends of IFOSuD does not get discouraged, because they have a great impact in Haiti. I pray that God will give you more means so you can help us impact even more people.

-Roseberline, Field Monitor

If you follow us on Facebook, you may have seen the prayer request for Rosemund, one of our field monitors. He was in a motorcycle accident and had to spend a few days in the hospital.

Haitian traffic is quite literally deadly and our field monitors are willing to travel on treacherous roads to get to their beneficiaries every single week - often multiple times per week!

Please keep them all in your prayers. They love what they do, but they get worn out from the spiritual battle in Haiti and the commitment it takes to visit beneficiaries day after day.

We are so thankful for all that they do. From studying Scriptures to praying for beneficiary families - their work is never ending. But what a worthwhile toil it is.

THE DRAXTONS ARE BACK IN HAITI!

Leaving a tad later than planned due to the unrest in Haiti, the Draxton bunch finally made it back to Haiti in early January.

Please, keep their family in your prayers as they spend a few months building up Farmer John's, visiting IFOSuD staff and beneficiaries, and adapting to the culture of Haiti.
